

ROOTS – Social, Environmental, and Cultural Connectivity in Past Societies

CRC 1266
SCALES OF TRANSFORMATION

BIWEEKLY COLLOQUIA SUMMER TERM 2019

CHALLENGING ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIAL NETWORKING AS DRIVERS OF CHANGE

APR 15 Kerstin Kowarik and Hans Reschreiter • Natural History Museum, Vienna

Facing change in the Alps. 3500 years of human-environment relations in the Hallstatt-Dachstein region

APR 29 Mark Pearce • University of Nottingham

The 'Copper Age': a history of the concept and a discussion of its present-day usefulness

MAY 13 Cameron Petrie • University of Cambridge

Does climate change really cause collapse? Insights from the Land, Water and Settlement and TwoRains projects

MAY 27 Jutta Lechterbek • University of Stavanger

Out of the mist and onto the table – the origin and spread of spelt at the Neolithic-Bronze Age transition

JUN 17 Miljana Radivojevic • University College London

Community structure as a novel method for evaluating archaeological phenomena: a case study on copper supply networks from the 7th – 4th millennium BC Balkans

VENUE:
Mondays, 4:15 p.m.
Leibnizstr. 1
Room 204