The Collaborative Research Centre (CRC) 1266 ‘Scales of Transformation’ from Kiel University is organising various archaeological and geophysical fieldwork campaigns. The projects span the Palaeolithic to ethno-archaeological research at recent sites, from Germany to Ukraine to India.

Currently there are still vacancies available for the following field campaigns (see also: www.sfb1266.uni-kiel.de/en):

- Bilyi Kamin Region, Ukraine (Neolithic, field walking survey): 4th-25th April 2021
- Etiolles, France (Palaeolithic, excavation): 31st May-26th June 2021
- Sultana, Romania (Neolithic, excavation and survey): 15th July - 31st August 2021
- Krychopil Region, Ukraine (Neolithic/Chalcolithic, excavation): 19th July - 15th August 2021
- Vráble and Zitavce, Slovakia (Neolithic, excavation): 19th July - 29th August 2021
- Hunte/Dümmer Region, Niedersachsen, Germany (Neolithic, excavation): August 2021 (3-4 Wochen)
- Lüchow, Schleswig-Holstein, Germany (Mesolithic, excavation): August - September 2021 (4-6 Wochen)
- Wittelsberg, Hesse, Germany (Neolithic, excavation): 30th August - 1st October 2021
- Bordos, Serbia (Neolithic, geophysical survey): 16th - 31st October 2021
- Dobbertin area, Mecklenburg-West Pomerania, Germany (Bronze Age, excavation): October 2021 (3-4 Wochen)
- Assam, (NE)-India (contemporary, archaeology/ethnoarchaeology): December 2021 – January 2022 (bis zu 3 Monate)
- Warburg-Menne, North Rhine-Westphalia, Germany (Neolithic, survey): December 2021 oder January 2022 (1 Woche)

Prior excavation experience is required. Certain expenses are covered, depending on the project.

If you are interested or have questions, please contact: office@sfb1266.uni-kiel.de